Teranova · Supplier profile

AgingTarget

Research programs for licensing

Korean developer of small-molecule candidates for atherosclerosis and Alzheimer's disease.

AgingTarget Inc.

IR (Investor Relation)

- Development of novel anti-atherosclerotic drugs targeting vascular senescence
- Development of multi-targeting anti-Alzheimer's drugs

Founder: Byeong Mo Kim, Ph.D.

AGINGTARGE
THE BETTER LIFE

Supplier profile

About the company

AgingTarget Inc. is a Korean company developing small-molecule drug candidates. According to the company as of 5 October 2026, its two research programs address atherosclerosis through vascular ageing and Alzheimer’s disease.

The company places both candidates before the preclinical stage. This is the company’s statement, not an assessment by Teranova; the profile contains no efficacy claims or comparisons with approved medicines.

- Two research programs: atherosclerosis and Alzheimer’s disease
- Small-molecule candidates
- Pre-preclinical, according to the company as of 5 October 2026

Research programs

Atherosclerosis

Small-molecule research candidate associated by the company with vascular ageing.

Alzheimer’s disease

Small-molecule research candidate which the company places before the preclinical stage.

Research focus

Stage and information

Stage, programs and partnership model are based on company materials dated 5 October 2026. Teranova makes no claim about candidate efficacy.

AgingTarget Inc.

Partnership

The company seeks investment, collaborative research, technology transfer and market-entry partners. Terms are discussed through Teranova for a specific enquiry.

Program format

Small-molecule research candidates

AgingTarget Inc.

Terms of cooperation

Format

Research programs for licensing

Terms

Discussed through Teranova for a specific enquiry

Information is drawn from the company’s reduced materials; it is not an offer or guarantee.

Interested in this supplier?

Teranova Group · info@teranovagroup.com · teranovagroup.com