Supplier profile

About the company

AGAFAR is a Korean skincare and dermatology-clinic brand based in Seoul. According to its official website, the company runs its own AGAFAR dermatology clinics in Korea — the site names clinic directors in Gyeyang, Gimpo and Juan — and presented its DERMA MODE PROGRAM catalog under the AGAFAR, agapharma and a'reiv names at K-Beauty Expo Korea 2026.

The portfolio spans five lines: AGAFAR (cleanser, toner, ampoules, eye care, moisturizer and sunblock for daily use), agapharma's Meditive Formula 3X (a hyal-collagen professional line of cleanser, ampoule, skin booster and creams), a'reiv (a laboratory-coded sheet mask and a calming sun cream), EXOXEN (a high-concentration exosome booster) and NADXEN (an NAD^+/NMN ampoule and serum, according to the company). AGAFAR also shows PLAZION, an in-clinic device its own materials describe as improving product absorption and penetration; Teranova has not seen a technical specification for it.

According to the company, products reach distribution markets including the US, Europe, Turkey and the UAE, and a separate North American affiliate describes a wider clinic network abroad. These are the company's own statements, confirmed for a specific enquiry, not independently verified by Teranova.
